Remember this logo. In the near future, should you at any time want to buy a house, particularly one that has been "pre-loved", give it some thought.

This symbol represents an effort by Pertubuhan Akitek Malaysia (PAM) to provide a professional service that can help property buyers assess defects or potential problems in the houses they plan to buy, all for a reasonable fee.

In due course, the services of Architect Centre Sdn Bhd will grow beyond building inspection and could emulate its Australian counterpart, which even monitors the state of the market to provide clues on its health.

The service is scheduled to be launched to the public next Thursday, May 8 but if you want more information now, call PAM at 03-2693 4182.
